

PEABODY ARCHIVE Peabody/Lambdin Kay Visiting Researcher Stipend (2009)

The Peabody Awards Programs and the Peabody Archives at the University of Georgia Libraries are pleased to announce the Peabody/Lambdin Kay Visiting Researcher Stipend program for 2008. Two stipends will provide expense reimbursement up to $2,500.

The purpose of the stipend is:

- To support the work of scholars by awarding funding to offset expenses associated with a research visit to the Peabody Archive.
- To encourage research access to radio and television collections held by the Peabody Archive.

Eligibility

- Scholars from all academic disciplines are eligible to apply.
- Applicants must be current students, faculty, or staff at a college or university.
- Research must be for work intended for publication and/or related to a thesis/dissertation.
- Research methodology requires use of radio or television programming held by the Archive.

Selection Criteria

An Archive committee will select stipend recipients based upon:

- Value of proposed research for related fields of study.
- Relevance of Archive holdings to proposed research.
- Applicant's research experience as illustrated in their curriculum vitae.
- Applicant's financial need (i.e. projected expense of proposed research visit).

About the Archive's Collections

The Peabody Archive holds over 45,000 titles of television programs and extensive radio collections from the 1940s to the present. The collection includes independent and studio-produced works, documentaries, local and network TV programming, and news and public affairs broadcasts.

- Made possible by support from the Lambdin Kay Chair for the Peabodys -
